MercuryGate International to Be Premier Sponsor of CSCMP's 2011 Annual Global Conference Event to Be Held in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, October 2-5

Lombard, Illinois USA (December 14, 2010)—The Council of Supply Chain Management Professionals (CSCMP) announced that MercuryGate International, Inc. will be the premier sponsor of its annual global conference scheduled for October 2-5 in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

“We have an outstanding relationship with MercuryGate and appreciate their continued support as they renew a two-year agreement,” said Rick Blasgen, CSCMP president and chief executive officer. “The supply chain management executives who attend this event welcome the opportunity to learn more about the services of world-class companies like MercuryGate. We look forward to working with them again this year to help them receive the global exposure that a CSCMP conference offers.”

“CSCMP's Annual Global Conference has been the perfect sponsorship for MercuryGate to build awareness of our transportation management software for the shipper and logistics service provider markets,” said Monica Wooden, chief executive officer of MercuryGate. “The conference has provided us with an optimal venue for logistics and supply chain management professionals to get to know us. This is the third year of our sponsorship, and we look forward to a long-term partnership with CSCMP.”

The largest of its kind for the supply chain management profession, CSCMP's Annual Global Conference will host over 3,000 global practitioners, educators, and thought leaders in Philadelphia for three-and-a-half days of professional education, industry research, best-practice presentations, and business networking.

The Supply Chain of the Future will be featured again at this year's event. This hands-on exhibit showcases the technologies, processes, and solutions provided by high-performing supply chains. Technical experts will also be on hand to answer participants' questions. The Supply Chain of the Future is a collaborative effort between the Distribution Business Management Association (DBMA), Supply Chain Leaders in Action (SCLA), and CSCMP.

Attendees who register before December 31 will receive the pre-pay registration rates. Registration information is available at cscmpconference.org.
